

New idea - new opportunities

Application of modern drones in agriculture today is being implemented in practice throughout the country. On May 4, a group of highly qualified specialists from the Davyergeodezcadasthre Committee visited the Scientific and Research Center of the Institute. The Faculty of Earth Resources Management, which is involved in geodetic science, has provided students with information on modern drones, droning through agricultural land and future use of them.

Utkir Islomov's lecturer at the department of Geodesy and Geoinformatics

The press secretary of the Institute, Rakhimboy Jumaniyazov